

Sugar babies

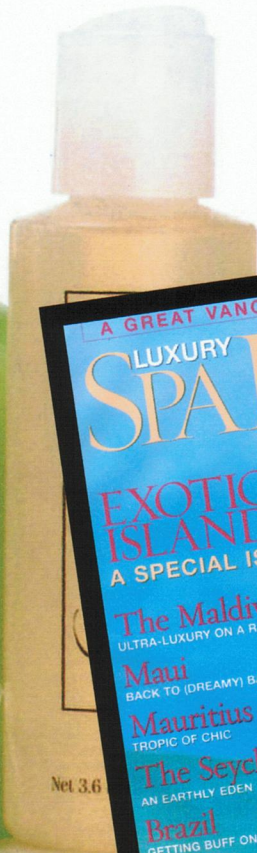

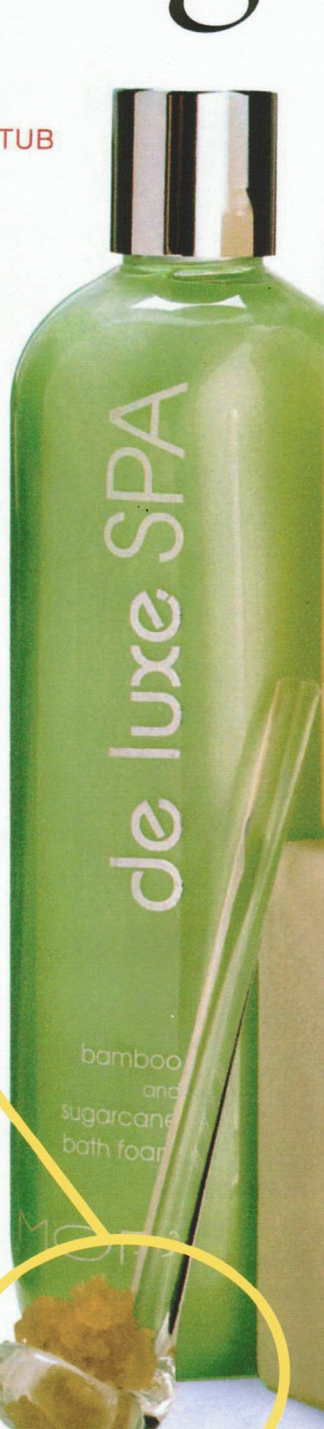

SWEET STUFF FOR THE TUB

SOAK STAR ▶

De Luxe Spa comes from Mor, an Australian body-care company whose tropical-ingredient blends have a global following. In this bath foam, Mor has added Dead Sea salts to extracts of bamboo and sugarcane for a real spa soak. Mor De Luxe Spa Bamboo and Sugarcane Bath Foam, $26 for 17.5 fl. oz., 800-978-4667

SUGAR IN ▼ THE RAW

Sugar scrubs exfoliate two ways: The granules buff, and natural AHAs gently peel. This one by Inara (in the ladle) is completely organic—rosemary-leaf extract is the preservative—and contains raw sugar and babassu oil (from a palm nut). It's harvested by women's cooperatives in Brazil, which get some of the profits. Inara Babassu Sugar Rub, $34 for 9.5 oz., www.inaraorganic.com

◀ SCRUBBING BUBBLES In Archipelago

BISM bath-tubs brown-cubes escent, odium and citric helps the y, il in

Fresh Sugarbath Cubes in lemon, $30 for 6.3 oz., www.fresh.com

◀ SOAP DISH

(middle) This wood-cut-style, triple-milled soap is both pretty and practical: Imperceptible bits of raw sugarcane help cleanse the skin, while coconut extract softens it. And the scent is subtle rather than sugary. Archipelago Botanicals Sugarcane Coconut Soap, $12 for 6.9 oz., 800-399-4994

LUXURY SPA FINDER BEAUTY TIP Look for products with sugarcane: It's a natural source of alpha hydroxy acids (AHAs) and helps the skin retain water.